Cookie Policy

The website www.ic.iem.gov.lv uses cookies. By using the website, you agree to the use of cookies.

What is a cookie?

Cookies are small text files that a web browser (such as Internet Explorer, Firefox, Safari, etc.) stores on a user's (visitor's) terminal equipment (computer, mobile phone, tablet) when a user visits a website to identify a browser or store information or settings in a browser. Thus, through cookies, the website acquires the ability to store the visitor's individual settings, recognize him or her and respond accordingly, in order to improve the user experience of the visitor of the website.

The website www.ic.iem.gov.lv uses statistical cookies, which allow to analyze and understand how website visitors interact with the website. Analyze the number and intensity of visitors. They remain on the visitor's terminal equipment after visiting our website. The information associated with cookies is not used to personally identify you.

Controlling and deleting cookies

If you wish, you can control or delete cookies. You can find more information about cookies, including what cookies are set on your device and how you can manage or delete them, at: <https://www.aboutcookies.org/>. Most browsers can be set to block the installation of cookies on your computer. These settings are most commonly found in the "Help", "Tools", or "Editing" sections.

Opting out of cookies means that you may have to manually adjust certain settings of the website each time you visit it. Also, some services and features of the website may not work.

Read about data privacy and security at <https://support.google.com/analytics/answer/7667196>.

Cookie storage

Statistical cookies are stored permanently or until they are specifically deleted.

Changes to Cookie Policy

The Information Centre of the Ministry of the Interior reserve the right to review and amend its Cookie Policy. Please check the Cookie Policy regularly for any changes.
